NVC Logistics Driver Receives Ryder Safety Award

Rockleigh, NJ (November, 2011) – NVC Logistics Group today announced that one of its drivers was named Safe Driver of the Month by Ryder.

Greg Grundy, a commercial vehicle Class A driver with NVC Logistics Group, was recognized through Ryder's ongoing Safety Awards Program as its Driver of the Month. Greg was selected from thousands of potential candidates due to his attention to safety, collision free miles, length of service, overall driving record and DOT, local & State regulatory compliance. In addition to being an experienced driver, Mr. Grundy also has a background as a mechanic.

Garret Schulz, Customer Development Manager for Ryder, and Sean O'Connor, Director-Central Region Operations for NVC presented the award to Mr. Grundy last month. The award exemplifies driver dedication to safety and service to customers, company and community.

At NVC, the value of driving and working safely is the essence of a quality home delivery, as it shows the care and commitment to both client products and to consignee satisfaction. NVC is a strong proponent of working and driving safely, as it can help improve job satisfaction and performance, enhance customer service and increased productivity.

Ryder's Safety Awards Program helps safe drivers get the recognition they deserve for a job safely done. Ryder recognizes the value of driving and working safely by acknowledging drivers' efforts with a series of awards designed to help companies lower costs and reduce risk by improving driver skills.
